DISCUSS MAKING RATES UNIFORM

Concord, April 15.—The establishment of a uniform method of fixing gas rates was discussed at a meeting of the gas company representatives of the state and Commissioner Thomas W. D. Worthen, of the Public Service Board, in the general committee room at the state house. The gas companies have been hit hard by the prevailing high cost of materials and notices of intentions to increase rates have already been filed by several of the companies with every probability that the other companies will take similar action.

Commissioner Worthen made it very plain that the commission believes that there should be a service charge, such as is in effect in Portsmouth and Concord at present, although no reference has been made in this city which is still pending and there was considerable talk about the change in Portsmouth. Manager Seybolt of the Portsmouth company explained how the matter had worked out and said that although there was dissatisfaction at first, resulting in a number of meters being taken out, the consumers were having their meters replaced as they came to understand the fairness of the charge. The service charge in Portsmouth is 50 cents a meter per month, in Concord the charge is 25 cents a month.

There was general agreement among the men present that steps should be taken for a uniform type of schedule and an effort will be made to work out such a schedule, to be operated with a view to the local conditions.

Dover, April 16.—A census of all male citizens in this city between the ages of 18 and 45 years was commenced yesterday for the purpose of making the annual military registration as required by the state law. In addition to the usual questions the census takers will ascertain the present occupation of each man; it will thus be possible for the city officials to complete an authentic record of Dover boys who are with the colors.

John Maher and Roy Douglass, the two boys who were arrested Saturday charged with stealing sugar from a freight car in Dover and against whom a charge is pending at Leominster, Mass., were taken to that city Sunday by Michael T. Conlen, chief of police of Leominster. Upon his arrival at

The Strafford county commissioners have voted not to accept the large Guppy station on Portland street which was devised to the county of Strafford by the late Jeremy Bolman Guppy upon certain conditions. The commissioners are of the opinion that had they accepted the same it would have been necessary for the county to run the Guppy estate as a separate institution. Under the terms of the will the refusal of the commissioners causes the property to revert to the city of Dover. As yet the city government has taken no formal action on the same but there is little doubt but that it will be accepted as provided in the will.

SHIPS TO HUNT FOR CYCLOPS

Washington, April 16.—The continuing search of trade routes will be carried on by American and French naval and merchant vessels until every possible hope of finding some trace of the missing naval collier Cyclops has been exhausted. Secretary Daniels has ordered additional fast scouts detailed for this service.

Although today passed without a report, Mr. Daniels refused to believe that the great 10,000-ton collier, with the 231 lives she carried, could have been Orders have gone out therefore for the searching vessels to "quarter" every inch of the route covered by the Cyclops and to visit every one of the scores of islands which dot that portion of the sea. Every isolated bay will be entered and every beach scrutinized.

BRITISH EXPECT NEW THRUST AT BAILEUL

With the British Army in France, April 15 (by the Associated Press).—The battle about Neuve Eglise, near the Belgian border, which has been shaken by the Germans, continued to rage this morning with the same intensity that has marked it for days, and the British are pounding the Germans hard.

Another assault on Baillou, four miles west of Neuve Eglise, is expected momentarily. The latest reports this forenoon showed that the British had been strongly held in a whole in this northern zone and in some instances had been considerably improved by counter-strokes.

The battle which has been raging about Neuve Eglise has been one of the most sanguinary of any since the German offensive began. On Friday night the Germans succeeded after heavy hand-to-hand fighting in gaining possession of the town. They held it through the night, but on Saturday morning the British drove forward and pushed them out.

The Germans continued to bring great numbers of troops against the British yesterday. The British took the initiative and cleared the Germans from the slopes to the east and southeast of the town. The enemy kept on hammering, and after a night of severe fighting at close quarters forced the British to abandon the village.

TURNING POINT OF BATTLE

Washington, April 15.—The turning point in the battle on the western front is being reached, says the war department's review of the military situation for the week ending April 13, published today. The review says: "The Germans have secured a distinct advantage which it would be unwise to endeavor to belittle, yet they have failed in the initial purpose to achieve victory in the field and will soon be forced to resume their old tactics, striking first at one point then at another in order to render the allied position untenable and give themselves greater security."

NEW DRAFT WILL MEAN ABOUT 10 MORE MEN

The call for 49,000 men for service in the forts and recruiting barracks, will give this district about ten more men to call into service by the first of May, in addition to the 33 of the quota which will leave here on April 25.

The local War Board have not received the definite figures of the quota but it is estimated at about ten men. In addition to this there are every indication that there will be a big draft early in May, the largest of the second draft. As the calls are now based on the number of Class 1 men, instead of population, it may make some difference in this big call.

The Attorney for the government is taking up several married men, who were married since last May who were not included in the first appeal to the District Board and there will go to the District Board in due form.

PROFESSOR PERRIN ADDRESSES ENLISTED MEN

Prof. Marshall B. Perrin of Boston University gave an able address Sunday afternoon at the meeting for enlisted men, his topic being "Is a Short Life Worth While?"

The speaker began his address by referring to Thomas Jefferson, whose birthday anniversary fell on Saturday, and spoke of our third president having been raised in this country, saying Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence, was the one who chose the plant, and then he put it into Washington's hands to plant it and Lincoln saved it.

The speaker asked what the war meant to the young men and said there had been so-called holy wars in the past, but never a more holy war than this. In the past they fought against people who had different beliefs, but this war is one of principle. He told his audience that no one could be more discouraged than Thomas Jefferson, for at times Jefferson was afraid he would not succeed. American, he said, stands for the highest development in the history of the world and if each of us stand for that we are helping the whole world.

Prof. Perrin told of the old times when individuals had no rights and said Thomas Jefferson had a center and a higher idea where the individual should decide what to do. We are not there yet, he said, as there will be questions to decide after the war, but together with the individual rights comes the individual responsibility.

America, Prof. Perrin said, has shown it has never fought for conquest. He told of having lived in Germany many years and said the Germans have a splendid system, but it is founded on the wrong principle; that the whole system is founded on fear as being opposed to humnity and power and not on love.

He told the enlisted men in the audience that they were fighting for a high principle and that it is not the sacrifice as America is to each one, but what America stands for is what each is fighting for, not simply for one's own country but what it stands for. He said their success in life depended upon two great commandments; the first, meaning to make the most of one's self, keeping high ideals and the second was to help others do the same. Whether one falls in battle or returns such a life will be sure to lead to things eternal.

At the conclusion of the service a Fellowship Lunch of salmon salad, sandwiches, coffee rolls and hot coffee was served by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver perhaps needs waking up. Don't neglect for bilious attacks. 30c at all stores.

LABOR PARTY AGAINST CONSCRIPTION

Ask That British Government Grants Home Rule to Ireland and Hold Up Conscription

(By Associated Press)

London, April 15.—The Labor Ministers of the Cabinet in an interview tonight with Premier Lloyd George pressed upon the Prime Minister the necessity of the government granting to Ireland self government on the basis of the majority report and to hold up the conscription act until after the Home Rule bill had been passed.

It is said that the interview was very favorable to the Labor members and that the crisis in the cabinet which has been predicted owing to the Labor party's objection to conscription for Ireland has been averted.

London, April 15.—At the week-end a serious state of affairs developed affecting the position of the Lloyd George Government, according to the parliamentary correspondent of the Daily News.

The Labor party, he says, is opposed to Irish conscription and the Labor ministers are considering whether they can support the Government.

George Nicoll Barnes, who is a member of the War Cabinet, is said to be in complete disagreement with the Government on Irish conscription.

If the Government's proposals are pressed forward in the way indicated by Premier Lloyd George and Chancellor of the Exchequer Bonar Law, the correspondent adds, it is probable the Labor executive will call on the Labor ministers to withdraw from the Government. Some Liberal members are believed to be very adverse to Irish conscription.

The situation, it is added, will have to be composed today or tomorrow or the Government will be in grave difficulties.

A committee of the British cabinet is now drafting an Irish home rule bill, the parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says. An Irish Parliament and executive will be established with full powers over the internal legislation and administration and over direct taxation. Representation in the Imperial Parliament will be retained in the form of a delegation of forty-two Irish members.

An Irish Senate of sixty-four members, he adds, will be constituted by allotting representation to different interests. The Irish House of Commons will consist of 200 members, eighty of given the least ground. The Germans have lost heavily here and the constant German attacks may have some bearing on future movement of General Pershing's troops.

Coinciding with the report of the resignation of Count Czerain the Hungarian-Austrian Prime Minister comes the reports of serious outbreaks in Prague which is of considerable magnitude. The Bohemians have long objected to the Germanization of their country and they have been reported as ready to object strenuously at the slightest provocation.

MAY ABOLISH EASTERN ARMY DEPARTMENT

Boston, April 15.—There is no doubt, though as yet unofficial, authority for the belief that the Department of the Northeast with headquarters established and maintained at 25 Huntington avenue since the declaration of war, is to be abolished and become a part of the Department of the East, the headquarters of which are in New York city.

Major General Clarence H. Edwards, in command of the Twenty-Sixth Division, now actively engaged in France, was the first commander detailed to the Department of the Northeast and upon his promotion and assignment as commander of the Twenty-Sixth, was succeeded by Brigadier General John A. Johnston, who is now head of the department.

Upon the departure of the New England division and because of frequent change of policy on the part of the War Department the province of the Northeastern Department has steadily decreased. A comparatively short time ago it ceased to have charge of furnishing supplies to the Camp Devens cantonment and in other ways its usefulness has been curtailed, until its maintenance as a separate department is considered no longer necessary and its abolition in the near future is understood to have been definitely decided upon.

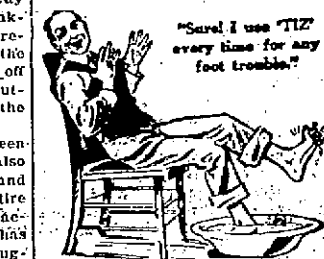

General Johnston, who was a retired officer and called back into the service to take this command, has maintained the highest standard of efficiency possible under the circumstances and his retirement from the position which he now holds, even though it is followed as it doubtless will be by assignment to a post of equal responsibility, will be a matter of regret in all military circles pertaining to this section of the country.

There is no indication as far as known of what his new duties may be. Colonel Warren P. Newcomb, another soldier of distinguished service, now acting chief of staff, will doubtless be transferred to the Department of the East, but in what capacity is problematical.

It is likely that a branch of the department will still be maintained in Boston to include the aviation department and for the purpose of an oversight of military affairs of intimate relation to New England.

TO SUPERVISE TRAVEL FOR EVERYBODY

Washington, April 15.—Supervision of travel of American citizens so as to guard the country against operations of spies and other enemy agents is to be provided under the broad powers conferred by a bill pending in the House, with the administration and the foreign affairs committee as its sponsors. It is intended to give necessary supplemental authority to the government to watch its borders and act quickly where present laws are inadequate and to follow, in principle, at least, the precautions taken by the warring governments of Europe.

Need of the legislation is considered pressing. Recently there have been numerous suspicious departures for Cuba which it was impossible for this government to prevent. Other individual cases of entry and departure at various points have excited the greatest anxiety. This is particularly true, according to the government, in respect of the Mexican border, passage across which cannot legally be restricted for many types of persons reasonably suspected of affording Germany's purposes. The bill will be urged in both houses as an emergency war measure. It is intended to stop what Chairman Flood of the House foreign affairs committee calls "an important gap in the war legislation of the United States."

As soon as this country entered the war the President provided by proclamation that German alien enemies might not enter or leave the United States without securing permission. When war was declared against Austria-Hungary similar regulations were promulgated concerning Austro-Hungarian alien enemies.

This measure of limitation of foreign travel was far from sufficient, reports the House foreign affairs committee. The Trading with the Enemy Act leaves American citizens and neutrals perfectly free to come and go. No argument is necessary to indicate the probability that Germany will wherever possible employ renegade Americans or neutrals as her agents instead of employing Germans about whom suspicion would easily be excited. The danger of the transference of important military information causes the government great anxiety, particularly as the Attorney General has ruled that neither the President nor the executive departments have power to curb the general departure and entry of travelers.

"New legislation is the only remedy," in his address to Congress on December 4, 1917, the President emphasized the necessity of creating a very definite and particular control over the entrance and departure of all persons into and from the United States. The Department of Justice drafted the bill now under discussion. It was introduced in Congress on February 26, 1918.

Citizens need not secure such permits as are required of aliens, but must bear valid passport. Passports will continue to be issued as at present by the Department of State, and there is no reason to believe, according to the framers of the bill, that any American citizen will be unduly inconvenienced by these restrictions.

While the power vested in the President is broad and comprehensive, the bill defines all the infringements of its terms which may be criminal. The bill places a maximum limit beyond which its penal provisions may not be carried, and requires that all rules, regulations, and orders shall be reasonable.

"No one," says Mr. Flood, "can foresee the different means which may be adopted by hostile nations to secure military information or spread propaganda and discontent. It is obviously impracticable to appeal to Congress for further legislation in each new emergency. Swift executive action is the only effective counter stroke."

BIBLE STUDENT GETS "IRON CROSS"

Bedford, Ore., April 14.—Pastor P. T. Tallaferra, travelling preacher for the International Bible Students' Association, scheduled to lecture here last night, was refused permission and ordered out of town by Mayor C. E. Gates, but remained until a crowd of several hundred threatened violence, when he hurriedly left by automobile.

The preacher was followed by a portion of the crowd, who, failing to locate Tallaferra, seized George Maynard, local leader of the sect, painted a huge iron cross upon his body, and gave him until Monday to leave the city.

GERMANY FIGHTING FOR FOOD

London, April 15.—"Victory now is a synonym for bread in Germany," declared Baron Rhondia, food controller, in explaining to the Associated Press the bearing of the German food problem on the offensive in the west.

"It is a fight, not for Paris, but for food," he added. "The cry of 'Give us bread' resounds incessantly in Hindenburg's ears, and in my judgment that cry has set the German legions moving."

"The Kaiser hoped to starve us into submission by the U-boat warfare. He failed. The Russian and Rumanian granaries proved to be nothing but a mirage. The despairing 'engorgement of hunger' are at the heart of this fury of battle."

"What do you think of events at home?" the food controller was asked. He replied:

"The old emotion and unity which we had in their first freshness in the black autumn of 1914 are back again in the hearts of all. No man can look without pride upon the temper of the country in these stern days. Our best comes to the top in the extremity."

After referring with pleasure to the manner in which the British nation had accepted, fought, rationing, Lord Rhondia concluded with a tribute to the United States, saying:

"America is at one with us and I can never speak too warmly of the help she gives me so generously in the matter of food supplies. We are organized and armed against the enemy. We are one people. That is our reply to Germany."

GERMANS WERE NOTHING TO THIS SOLDIER

(By Associated Press)

American Army in France, (by the Associated Press) April 15.—The German army attacked the American forces on the right bank of the Meuse river today, was made by a picked force of four hundred men, who have recently been brought from Russia. The German casualties in the attacks, all of which were repulsed, are known as 64 dead and many wounded.

A young Italian, born in a Pennsylvania coal mining town, killed one German and captured three. He was walking through a communicating trench when he saw eight Germans, he shot and killed one, wounded another and captured another. He brought two back into the American lines and then turned them over to the Captain with the calm request for a match. The Captain replied "Yes," whereupon the Italian, in another prisoner, the Italian taking him seriously, jumped over the top and in five minutes came back with a six foot German walking briskly ahead of him at the point of a bayonet, with both hands in the air. The Italian got his match.

JEWISH PEOPLE SUBSCRIBE TO LOAN

At a meeting of the Tibereth Zion held on Sunday evening an appeal was made for the third Liberty Loan by the Jewish team captain, Harry Cohen and by the President, Philip Cohen. There were only a few members present but they responded with $1600 in subscriptions. Harry Susman took $500, Joseph Cohen $500, Harry Cohen $200, Jacob Cohen $100, N. Abramson $100, H. Goldman $50, Samuel Halperin $50, Sam. Halperin $50, M. Swales $50, H. Lieberman $50. There were several others who pledged other sums.

AN AMERICAN COLONEL CAPTURED

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 15.—The casualty list, that was issued by the war department today, contains the names of 41 men killed as follows: Killed in action, 1; died of wounds, 3; died of unknown causes, 1; died of disease, 7; wounded, severely, 4; wounded slightly, 27; missing, 1; Col. R. C. Hollings is reported captured, having been missing for some time. Seven officers were in the slightly wounded and one in the severely wounded.

PRUSSIAN-FREIGHTS ROBBED OF MILLIONS

Amsterdam, April 15.—A statement of the Prussian Diet by the minister of railways shows that thefts from freight trains in Prussia last year aggregated a total of more than $14,000,000. In the last pre-war year, the thefts of the same character were less than 3 million dollars.

The minister declares that although 4000 railway employees were punished for theft there seems to be no way of stopping this "carnival of robbery" which he is compelled to regard as a "war-time evil."

T. ROETS, BULLET THAT HIT ARCHIE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 15.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt received today a German bullet which wounded but failed to kill his son, Capt. Archie Roosevelt, during a recent engagement in No. Man's Land in France. With the bullet came a message from young Roosevelt, telling his father that he expects soon to be out of the hospital.

The Part of the United States.

Grafton D. Cushing, former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, was one of a special delegation of ten men recently sent to England and France by the Liberty Loan managers to gather at first hand information on the situation there, the information thus gained to be used in pushing the Liberty Loan.

The delegation returned a few days ago and Mr. Cushing reported the situation extremely serious. He said the party was given every opportunity to observe the conditions. The Allied armies were found fighting with great courage and spirit, but they had their hands full, and Mr. Cushing said plainly that "the successful outcome of the war now rests heavily on our efforts in providing men, munitions and ships for their transportation."

This, coming from such a man as Mr. Cushing immediately after a personal study of the conditions on the western front, is significant, and it corresponds perfectly to the news coming daily from the war zone. Mr. Cushing says the British and French appeared to have reached the maximum of their present efforts. While this may not be literally true it is evident that the time is at hand for the United States to make itself felt as it has not yet done, and this it is going to do.

The delays of the past, whether excusable or inexcusable, are of the past. The country is now awake to the stern duty before it as at no previous time, and from this time on things are going to move. They are already moving. The American troops in France are now bearing their share of the burden on the battle lines and others are being hurried across the water as fast as ships can carry them. The American army will soon be a much greater force in the fighting than it is now, and it has already made itself felt in no unmistakable way. From every side comes unstinted praise for the skill and bravery of the United States troops.

And here at home the people are not idle. Subscriptions to the Liberty Loan are of the most encouraging character, work in the ship yards is being rushed and new men are being pressed into the ranks to take the places of those who have gone across. There is the utmost activity all along the line, showing that the country is awake to the size of its task and ready to perform it.

It is well that this is so. There is no time to be lost. There is no reason whatever to doubt the final outcome, but the time is at hand for the United States to assume the place it must occupy in the final decision, and from this time on there must be earnest and unremitting endeavor on the part of American soldiers and American citizens. Ultimate victory is as certain as that tomorrow's sun will rise, and the sooner that victory is achieved the better it will be for the whole world, Germany included.

It is good news that the Standard Oil Company is to make material enlargements at its plant on Noble's Island. It is also an interesting fact that hereafter Portsmouth is to be the distributing point for New Hampshire's supply of oil as well as of coal. Highly gratifying is the manner in which big business continues to drift toward this city.

In a Chicago dispatch western farmers are charged with being loan slackers. It is said the prices of their products have increased more than most other articles, and that they are not taking their share of the Liberty bonds. Yet it is to be questioned that anything will be gained by "hollering" and denouncing them as slackers.

It seems that there have been thousands of cases of failure to file income tax returns, and also cases in which the facts have not been honestly reported. The government is looking after these cases and will be remiss in its duty if it fails to impose the prescribed penalties.

President Wilson's recent speech at Baltimore is said to be booming the German loan as well as the Liberty Loan. The Germans have noted his allusion to "force to the utmost without stint or limit," and believe he means it. And for once the Germans are right.

The truth of what this paper recently said relative to the necessity of guarding against grass and brush fires at this time of the year has already been demonstrated at large cost in the region of Kittery.

If Congress decides that the penalty for sedition shall be $10,000 fine or twenty years' imprisonment it will be apt to check seditious utterances unless the sentences are "suspended."

Jess Willard, who is approaching 40, says he will enter the army as soon as the government is ready to take men of his age. In the meantime he is doing his fighting in the ring.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Untainted

(From the Albany Journal)
German-owned money in this country is perfectly good for the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

What Did You Give Up?

(From the Baltimore American)
Some give up wheat and some give up sons, and those who complain are the ones who give up wheat.

Take a Kick, Buy a Bond

(From the Cotton Oil Press)
The Liberty Bond may be the chap that kicks the Kaiser off the map.

You Hyphenate!

(From the Seattle Post-Intelligencer)
What is to be said of the American who would bite the hand that feeds him while he is ready to kiss the boot that would make him a subject slave?

The Utilitarian Auto

(From the Springfield Republican)
Brooklyn automobile owners volunteer in large numbers to drive relatives of soldiers down to Camp Union and back on Sundays. That is a proper bit of Americanizing service.

Eliminating the Hyphen

(From the Springfield Union)
One country, one flag and one language. The German schools of the Middle West, so far at least as they have been republishing the public schools in which English is taught, must go. The United States does not intend to be Germanized.

Some Folks Stand to Lose

(From the New York World)
An amazing number of German bonds is reported in the hands of Teutonic sympathizers in this country; possibly $500,000,000. Up to a year ago they were a legal investment under neutrality; but what a childlike faith in future repayment—which depends upon German victory and upon American defeat!

Among Those Missing

(From the New York Herald)
According to the Kölnische Zeitung, 2582 soldiers of German nobility have been killed during the war. That helps some. Discovery that there isn't a Hohenzollern in the lot ought to help the German people to an understanding of what has happened to their country and why.

"May I Not?"

(From the Houston Post)
The Presidential "May I not?" has been pestering Jack Warwick, of the Toledo Blade. It bothered him for a while, but after we learned that these words frequently preceded "after you a postoffice" or something equally as good, we invariably advised our patriots to let the President "May-I-not" as often as he liked.

An Important Distinction

(From the Springfield Union)
The distinction between the terms "enemy alien" and "alien enemy" appears to be lost on a large number of persons, who use the terms interchangeably as having the same meaning. An enemy alien is any person who is a citizen or subject of one of the countries with which the United States is at war. So long as he is well behaved, observes the laws of this country and neither by speech nor act attempts to injure this country or aid the country of which he is a subject, he continues to be only an enemy alien, and is not regarded as dangerous, but if he engages or attempts to engage in any overt acts against this country his status changes to that of alien enemy, which puts him in the dangerous class and makes him liable to imprisonment or internment. All subjects of Germany and Austria living in the United States today are enemy aliens, but, fortunately, only a small proportion of them are such as may properly be regarded as alien enemies.

Those Hard Names

(From the New York Evening Post)
Those who have difficulty in spelling Mississippi and who think Banff unmusical will now wonder what they are going to do without an American Indian dictionary. For in selecting 120 native names for the ships a-building at Hog Island, Mrs. Wilson could show no mercy. She made her choice for authenticity rather than romance, and the only hope of mariners lies in the fact that each ship bears but one name. "Est don't do Sisindobv" is the submarine commander will call to his lookout, who will reply, "Nein, das ist die Togghkanick." The Germans will be able to speak those serious consonants and the Russian of course, but those who use the gentler Latin tongues may falter in mentioning the Shilvitz, the Toboska, the Uklah, or the Sebawing. In foreign ports there will often be discussion as to whether the new ship's etymology hails from the Old Testament, from the Eskimo, or from the ancient Babylonian. As the New Orleans States observes, Mrs. Wilson has certainly called our vessels "hard names."

Overworking the Bees

(From the Hartford Courant)
As most things are affected by the war there is less cause for marvel in the suggestion of the National Food Administration that the bees should be made more efficient. Kenneth Hawkin, who is bee specialist at the United States Department of Agriculture, is telling the apiarists that they should market less comb honey and more of the extracted product, for, he says, it requires as much energy on the part of the bee to make a pound of beeswax as to make twenty pounds of honey. The honey should be extracted from the comb by a centrifugal machine, he says, and the comb may then be placed back in the hive for the bees to refill. As the bees have not turned the clock ahead, the beekeepers are urged to see that the bees are speeded up a little in this method, it being impossible to provide them with time clocks or to pay them a bonus for increased production. What the bees will think of it is altogether immaterial, we suppose. They may enjoy refilling the old comb, or, on the other hand, they may tire of it and quit, strike, go out or express their disapproval in some such way. If this plan of exploiting them continues we may expect to see the bees organize for self-protection.

Zeal For Knowledge Commended

(From the New York Evening Post)
Much nonsense has been talked about the injury which we have suffered from over-intimacy with Germany. The error was its too little, not too much, knowledge. We mistook superficial familiarity for real intimacy. We should strive to know and be known by the next international company we keep. Therefore, we note with interest that the Public Library and the museums in Newark, N. J., have taken a step toward South American rapprochement. They are collecting for an exhibition in May many products, facts, statistics, books, maps, charts, magazines, advertisements, and pictures of Colombia, intended to make the citizens, and especially the importers and exporters, of Newark, conversant with Colombian products, wants, needs, customs, possibilities, and characteristics. Incidental to this exhibition, the Newark Library advertises that, whatever its function may be as a distributor of literature, it aims chiefly to be a widely used distributor of practically valuable information. Considering the arrogance, both conscious and unconscious, shown to the United States of Colombia by the United States of America in times past, and the widespread ill affects thereof, and considering the ghastly results of arrogance of both sorts internationally exhibited in other places, the Newark venture seems worthy of commendation and imitation.

Maine's Coveted Resources

(From the Worcester Telegram)
Maine is afraid of Massachusetts. Having been a part of this Commonwealth a century or more ago, the severed portion must be harking back to the old Massachusetts. Times have changed. There is nothing here now to be afraid of. The Lewiston Journal says Massachusetts papers recently made an attack upon Maine's policy of keeping waterpower for its own use, and mixed with it policy of selling potatoes to go away with its refusal to sell electric currents to whiz away. That is about as the Journal, because potatoes are raised by labor and when sold the money comes back to Acworth, to be used for the benefit of that community, whereas it builds homes, churches and schools, and new life is created, and so on. What the industrial people outside want is for Maine to turn its water force into electricity and sell it. Just as Maine sells potatoes. There is a million times as much money in that for the Maine people. Other states dig out their coal and sell it to its robbers down this way, and get big prices for it. They cannot do that always. The coal runs out. Maine holds an inexhaustible supply of "white coal." Mine it and rent the power, and it will last forever. It would be worth more as annual income than all the other resources of Maine in easy and over-ready coin.

The Infamy of Germany

(From Town Talk, San Francisco)
In the light of Germany's confession how unfortunate that so many Germans in this country failed to see fit to disown her and vindicate their appreciation of their American citizenship! It is too bad they did not "stand from under" right after the treaty with Belgium was converted into a scrap of paper. But of course something is to be said in mitigation of their folly. How were they to know that their Government was to go the limit in humbleness and involve nearly all in the great catastrophe? They had reason to be proud of that Government that had raised them from third-rateness and ineffectiveness to the first rank among the successful peoples of the world. They were proud of that Government, and they had unlimited confidence in its capacity to bestow even greater prestige on the sons of the Fatherland. But how dull of them to be insensible of the unnumbered risks their Government was running in making a record of extraordinary infamy. This record is bound to haunt Teutons generally for many years. Nay, it may be cited for all time by authorities wishing to argue that the German is of a breed apart—that he is the same today as he was in the days of the Caesars, or rather that he is the logical offspring of the ancient German made more dishonorable and brutal by his Kultur. All things considered, not even the glory of a blood and iron triumph could ever compensate Germany.

The American Soldier

(From the Havana Post)
He's a lamb all right, and there are things, such as the Kaiser, for which he doesn't give a damn, but there's a tenderness about him when he gets through not giving a damn for the Kaiser that is apt to surprise one not well acquainted with him. Just as soon as he knocks off killing

DO YOU BELONG? WHY NOT REFORM?

—even before he has had time to wash his hands—he relapses into a good-natured boy as you could find around a Christmas tree in the old homestead. We saw him in Vera Cruz after the Mexicans had been sniping at him for a day and a half, breaking into the houses to look for the rifles and machine guns that had been murdering his comrades and trying to murder him, and his chief concern seemed to be to assure the members of the family that he wasn't going to hurt them. He was terribly distressed when, through his inability to speak Spanish, he was unable to make women understand that neither they nor their babies were going to be skinned with his bayonet, and that he wasn't even going to murder the murderous husbands. Of course, he thereby showed himself woefully lacking in the efficiency displayed by the well-trained soldiers of the Kaiser in Lorraine and a score of other Belgian towns—but he stopped the shooting in Vera Cruz. It is reported to have behaved in the same foolish way when fired upon in the Mexican capital something more than half a century earlier, after the city had surrendered. He stopped that shooting, too. Now the foolish boy is cumbering his strong arms with the helpless babies of France! Someone a long time ago defined a gentleman as a being who is "as gentle as a woman and as manly as a man," and it arranged a thousand counts, we fear that the American soldier would have to plead guilty of being a gentleman—and surely none the better soldier.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

An Answer to Navy Yard Life Buoy Criticism.

To the People of Portsmouth, N. H.:
An article has appeared in the local papers lately, which was undoubtedly intended to arouse the Navy Yard workmen to a higher spirit of patriotism, but it has in a good many cases discouraged the men.

The sense of this writing was, that one out of every nine men employed at the Yard was absent from work every day, and that but a small minority really had an excuse.

Those who stayed out without permission were referred to as being unpatriotic and worse than slackers.

It is the opinion of the Council that there is an excuse for a great majority of these men. If you will consider the inconveniences which the Navy Yard workmen have had to meet all winter, we are sure you will all agree with us.

First, there is the inadequate transportation facilities between the Navy Yard and the surrounding towns, Portsmouth included. Also the congested condition of Portsmouth and Kittery on account of which many of the men are forced to keep their homes and families in cities so far removed from the Navy Yard that they are unable to go home except occasionally on a Sunday. Very often it is necessary for them to take a week day off, once in a while to straighten out family and business affairs.

There are many other good reasons which necessitate a day from work besides the two stated, but the principal cause for so many men staying out, however, is due entirely to the fact that they are working such long hours.

Nearly all the shops on the Yard are, and have been for some time working under a schedule which has long ago been abandoned and condemned by the leading nations of Europe, as physically and mentally unhealthful to the men, and therefore disadvantageous to the employer.

This is the ten hour a day system, and in many cases here at the Yard for seven days a week.

Authorities on this subject claim that working under this system for any length of time almost always results in the permanent disablement of the laborer or mechanic. It also in a very short time shatters his nerve system and leaves him so physically that he is forced to stay from work for a day or two at frequent intervals to get temporary relief from the mental and physical strain.

No better argument for the eight-hour work day was ever expressed than by that very article which was printed lately entitled, "Slacker on the Navy Yard."

At the present time there are wonderful opportunities for them to better themselves and their conditions outside the Yard, with private concerns or even in the Naval and Military service.

It is very much to the credit of the men to say that most of them realize that this is without doubt a war necessity, so they have uncomplainingly accepted these conditions and are doing their best in the capacity in which the Government needs them most.

Hoping that the readers of this paper will consider these circumstances and incidentally give the Navy Yard workmen a little of the credit and respect which is so deservedly being tendered to their brothers in the service, we are, Yours respectfully, Press Committee, Metal Trades Council of Portsmouth, N. H.

(The article referred to in the above communication appeared in the Navy Yard official paper, "The Life Buoy," and was copied and credited to that paper when it was published by this paper.—Ed.)

The May Woman's Home Companion.

The May Woman's Home Companion is interesting reading, full of bright fiction, unusual articles, and helpful suggestions. The first of a series of articles from Margaret Deland in France appears in this number, giving the famous novelist's impressions of her voyage and of her fellow passengers. From an "embarkation camp," Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson sends an intimate picture of the boys about to start "over there." Miss Fanderewka tells of her estranged Poland, Amelia Gail-Curel advises the girl who wants to sing, and Corinne Lowe exposes the wiles of the fashionable milliner.

There are helps and hints for gardeners, community or otherwise, and for the patriotic canner, also a picture section of interest and merit, and a fashion department that is well illustrated and filled with clever suggestions.

"Oh, those Gardens!" is a highly amusing story by Mary Heaton Vorse; Holworthy Hall's novel, "Mr. Quixote," ends in this number, and there are stories by Ella Parker Butler, Frederic Orin Bartlett, and Alice Brown.

One of the many explanations that have been offered to account for the fact that migrating birds are able to find their way by night and in cloudy or foggy weather is that they are sensitive in some way, to currents of terrestrial magnetism, and therefore follow their flight by the magnetic meridians. This suggestion was put forth by M. A. Thauzies, a French pigeon fancier.

U. S. GETS SUPPLIES FOR BUILDING SHIPS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 16.—Senator Fletcher, chairman of the senate committee on commerce, declared today that an adequate supply of steel had been assured for the shipbuilding program. "I am very well satisfied with the situation now," said he, "and I feel confident there will be no further delay for lack of steel plates."

"The trouble was also largely a matter of transportation. They have put men behind the cars, however, and have traced out steel that has been on sidings, and now it is all moving to the yards. The War Industries Board promises that they will continue to deliver the steel as the shipyards need it."

So there may be no slackening in wooden ship launchings, it has been arranged between the shipping board and the railroad administration to rush 50,000,000 feet of Douglas fir from the Pacific coast to the shipyards of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts by special trains. Eighteen wooden ships totalling 67,000 tons are scheduled to leave the yards before May 1 at government yards. Upwards of 20,000 tons of wooden ships are also due to be launched this month from private yards.

CHARGED WITH WASTING PUBLIC FUNDS

London, April 16.—The British ministry of munitions has been charged by a committee of the house of commons with wasting public funds through the failure to adopt precautions in awarding contracts for war supplies. The expenditures of the munitions department were investigated by a committee on national expenditures.

In its report the committee charged that the department had no adequate system of estimating costs or of controlling prices of munitions, that it did not properly limit profits to the contractors nor regulate the use of labor and material.

MALAMPANES HELD IN DOVER MURDER

Dover, April 15.—James Malampanes was held without bail for the September grand jury in municipal court yesterday, charged with first degree murder in shooting Bill (Shaltis), otherwise known as Vespasian Tsaltis, April 8. He was also held on charge of shooting with intent to kill his sister, Athena Malampanes, fiancée of Tsaltis at the same time.

John Carabellus, an employee of the mill where Tsaltis and Miss Malampanes were employed, testified that after Malampanes was caught on the railroad track within an hour after the tragedy he asked the prisoner what he did the shooting for. "I did right. I hope I got the fellow," witness said Malampanes replied.

GREAT PROFITS FOR ORGANIZER

Boston, April 15.—P. Monroe Dyer, a New York banker was the organizer of the Day State Fishing Company, which is alleged to be a controlling factor in the fish business, and received $2,500,000 for his ideas and work according to testimony before the fish investigating committee of the legislature today.

Harrison J. Cole, former fleet manager of the Day State Fish Company under examination by Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Matusky, counsel for the committee, said the old Day State Fishing Company, a Maine corporation, which owned nine trawlers and was building three more, was purchased by Dyer. The banker paid $500,000 in cash, $500,000 in first preferred stock of the New Day State Fish Company, a Massachusetts corporation, and $500,000 in common stock of the new company. Then, according to Cole, the old company was sold by Dyer to the new company for $500,000 in cash and $500,000 in first preferred stock and $3,000,000 in common stock.

"Then Dyer's profit was about $2,500,000," asked Matusky.

"Yes," answered Cole.

Cole gave it as his opinion that the Day State Fishing Co. had absolute control of the New England fish market.

SEC. DANIELS STILL HOPES FOR THE CYCLOPS

Washington, April 15.—Orders for greater efforts to find the missing naval cruiser Cyclops, overdue from South American waters for more than a month, went out today to American ships. In addition allied naval craft on patrol duty in the South are holding in the search.

So far not one word has come to clear up the mystery of the cruiser's disappearance. Secretary Daniels said today, however, he still clung to the hope the vessel would report.

Naval officials were no nearer today to a solution of the disappearance than they were three weeks ago, when anxiety over the safety of the ship first developed. There is absolutely nothing on which to found an explanation. The big cruiser has simply vanished from the sea.

No possible theory was rejected by officials in seeking an explanation. Suggestions heard most frequently were that German agents had boarded the ship in port and captured her from her people at sea, that she had broken in two and gone down in a sudden squall, that she had been overtaken by a submarine and sunk without trace, and that an internal explosion had sent her down.

A theory that she had been captured by a group of German agents appeared to be the only explanation that would account for the silence of her radio equipment.

One of the Cyclops' engines was damaged, but it is not believed the engine trouble had anything to do with the disappearance.

Constructors said the Cyclops was one of the staunchest craft of the auxiliary fleet of the navy.

Collier Was in Need of Repairs

Baltimore, April 15.—One of the five men on the naval cruiser Cyclops, long overdue, was Thomas V. Lee of this city. His father, John F. Lee, said today, in a letter received several months ago, his son referred to an explosion on board the Cyclops and added that repairs could not be made until they arrived at Philadelphia.

TRUNK WANDERED 25 YEARS

If Hackensack, N. J., were a city in which one expected speed or service, Dr. C. B. Kuebler, who lives there, would be rather indignant about a trunk which he received recently. As matters are, however, he is merely mystified, because the trunk, which has been on its way to him for 25 years, belongs to no one he knows, contains nothing he wants and came from a place he never heard of.

Dr. Kuebler was notified that if he called at the express company's office at Hackensack and paid $1.88 in cash he could have a package which it was high time he had got. He reported with the funds and found one of the oldest trunks now extant. A stamp on its side indicated that it had left Nishi, India, in 1893 and its contents showed that it had been handled by some of the most violent baggage handlers in America, season after season.

Spurred on by the initial investment Dr. Kuebler had the trunk opened and found therein a package of circulars announcing a lecture on the Holy Land and 10 pieces of moth-eaten Oriental apparel. A visiting card such as he recalled having in St. Louis 20 years ago was in the trunk and a picture of E. Lydia Van Pinesstein Munford, a lecturer of whom Dr. Kuebler had never before heard.

The express company announced that the trunk belonged to Dr. Kuebler with little free and clear, and he with no show of enthusiasm, had it removed to the nearest open lot.—Detroit Free Press.

MEN OF 70 TRADES NEEDED FOR SERVICE IN ARMY

Washington, April 15.—Draft registrants skilled in some 70 trades and professions are invited to appear before their local boards between now and April 27 and list their names for service with the army. Posters specifying the kind of men wanted have been sent to the boards by Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder, and it is hoped by this means to enroll a great force of skilled men upon whom the army can call whenever their services are needed. Both white and negro men of draft age, qualified for military service, are eligible.

LABOR SHORTAGES IN SHIP- YARDS EXAGGERATED

Washington, April 15.—Reports of labor shortages in the shipyards are

The Shipping Board is asked to discourage these reports, because they "serve to dissatisfy the men enrolled in the reserve who are not needed now, but will be greatly needed in the coming months as shipbuilding progresses."

KILONIS DEFEATS DRYDEN IN WHIRL-WIND MATCH

Local Man Lost Match by Adopting Tactics of the Greek—Kilonis Gets Severe Punishment But Wins

Although John Kilonis, noted all over the country as the roughest wrestler in the business, got the worst punishment of his career at the hands of Bill Dryden, he won the match principally through Dryden adopting the tactics of the other man.

It was without any exception the fastest and roughest match seen in this city, with both men at times throwing all caution to the winds and just plain roughing. It, and several times the ropes saved both men, especially Kilonis, who in the first few minutes of wrestling shot over Dryden's head into the ropes.

Kilonis started the bout in his usual fashion the minute he got into the ring by protesting that the toe hold was not allowed in all of the matches he had fought, and that in no matches of any importance is anything but the struggle hold barred. This attempt of the Greek to kid the crowd got him in bad, and they "hotted" him until he quit talking.

Dryden told Referee Esterbrook to announce if the hold barred but to declare off all bets and this the crowd objected to and finally the match started with everything to go under championship rules with struggle hold alone barred.

John Kilonis could hardly wait for the referee to step between them before he started and he got the shock of his life when he found Dryden perfectly willing to come back with all of the rough wrestling after he had been shot through the air once or twice he calmed to a degree. It was whirlwind stuff with both men working as fast as they ever did, finally by a lucky hold, Kilonis in 15 minutes got himself and he proved to be a good man for this position.

SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

John Kilonis and his famous merry-go-round hold proved the undoing of Bill Dryden Monday evening. While the match could not truthfully be called a gentle affair, it was the fastest and most exciting thing in the grappling line yet seen in Portsmouth. Kilonis, who is noted for his aggressive tactics, started in to rough it from the start and from then until the finish both men handed it to each other at every opportunity. Up to the time that Kilonis secured his favorite hold, Dryden was more than holding his own both at wrestling and roughing it. Kilonis was on the defensive most of the time, while many of the fans did not take kindly to the hold used by Kilonis in gaining the deciding fall. It may be said here that it is a perfectly legitimate hold and considered one of the best and hardest holds to secure in the wrestling game. Kilonis is about the only wrestler who makes a specialty of the merry-go-round and a majority of his matches are won in this manner. Charlie Metro, of Claremont, who is considered one of the cleanest wrestlers in New England, triumphed Jim Poulton, of the merry-go-round, and also worked it on Poulton's understudy, the Masked Marvel. Bill Dryden wrestled one of the best matches of his career and really outwrestled Kilonis up to the time of the deciding fall. Bill's friends are confident that the next meeting of the pair will see a different ending.

Hussano is positive he has a block for Stecker's selectors and hopes to prove it in Boston Thursday night. He claims that he checked Joe in the New York match for over half an hour and claims that what he learned of Stecker's hold in the contest will help him here on Thursday.

Balkline billiard champion Willie F. Hoppe is improving as a three-cushion player and it may not be long before he endeavors to add the angle title to his string. In his championship matches he has scored 10,000 points to the 18.1 and 18.2 ball line game and has a grand average of 45.

The University of Pennsylvania basketball team has for the fourth time won the eastern intercollegiate championship. They won nine games, losing the concluding game to Princeton in the runners-up. In addition, Columbia, Yale, Cornell and Dartmouth formed the league.

When the 1918 class graduates at West Point in August the football players to be lost will be Cadets Olliphant, Merrill, Knight, Mitchell, Horst, Casey, Cronch, Krebner, Richardson and Ward. For three seasons Olliphant contributed the greatest number of points towards the army's successes and he will be missed.

Portsmouth Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Portsmouth story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Leslie Whitehouse, 33 Maplewood avenue, says: "I was annoyed at times by a catch just over my kidneys. I felt so bad I could hardly move about. There was a heavy, dull, throbbing ache across the small of my back. The kidney secretions were profuse, highly colored and contained sediment. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy, checked this disorder and up to the present time, I have felt no return of it."

LASTING BENEFIT.
Over four years later, Mr. Whitehouse said: "Doan's Kidney Pills removed kidney disorders in my case so that I haven't had to use them but once in four years. I readily commend my former recommendation."

BEGIN SURGICAL DRESSINGS FOR PERSHING

There was a large number of workers of the Red Cross at the work room at the Elks Home on Monday, when special instructions were given on the new surgical dressings that are to be required for Gen. Pershing's men, or the emergency surgical dressing kits.

An instructor from the Haverhill Chapter, who had previously been under instruction in Boston, came here on Monday and gave instruction on making the new style dressings, which were quickly adopted by the local workers.

The full allotment of what this Chapter will be expected to turn out, is not known yet but will be this week and it will be sufficiently large, so that it will tax the capacity of the working force to get it out, and possibly another day a week may be necessary for this work. If you are not enrolled in this work you ladies who can possibly spare the time, this is a grand opportunity to do your bit.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

New York's army of baseball fans is pulling hard for Sunday baseball.

Manager Barrow of the Red Sox will appear in uniform on the coaching lines this season.

But Chase is playing first base for the Red Sox in brilliant style. He seems as young as ever.

Jack Daubert is starting off well with the Robins. He'll have to earn the $2000 this year or give way to another first baseman.

The Phillies pitching staff looks formidable with Oeschger, Bender, Mayer, Watson, Hogg, Davis, Woodward, Prendergast and Tineup to draw from.

Jack Adams, once with the Giants will be the Phillies leading catcher this year. Moran says he is another Killefer.

Jack Kendrick says that Lee Meadows the four-eyed pitcher of the Cardinals will be a sensational winner this year.

All of the American league umpires will tell you that Walter Johnson has never kicked over a decision on balls and strikes.

Huggins has four solid hitters bunched together in Pratt, Pipp, Baker and Bodie.

Take Cobb out of the Detroit team and remove Speaker from the Cleveland batting order, and what do you suppose would happen?

The Washingtons have the shortest infielders in either big league. Judge, Morgan, Lavan and Foster are not more than 5 feet ten inches tall.

George Whitted, for the first time since he was traded to the Phillies in 1915, he signed at President Baker's terms. New Bender and Nishoff will fall into line.

Baseball sharps predict that each major league club will be carrying not more than 18 players when Decoration day arrives. Some of the managers may reduce to 16 men.

Connie Mack got $75,000 for Strunk, Bush, McInnis and Schang, and also topped $15,000 off his last year's salary list. Indubitably he has a new team that can't finish lower than the Athletics of 1916 and 1917.

Connie Mack says that the Athletics will present a formidable batting order with O'Brien, Jamieson, Gardner, Harris, Walker, Dugan, Shannon and Cady as regulars.

George Burns of the Giants was the best waiter in the National league last season. He drew 75 bags on balls. Heinie Groh of the Reds stood second with 71.

Don't be surprised if they ask $2 for every baseball you buy at the stores before the summer is over. Yarn is scarce. Woolen yarn that goes into the making of the genuine big league baseball has increased in price 300 per cent and shows no sign of abating, according to a big manufacturer. The league balls at $1.50 are possible only because the makers have stored yarn ahead of the latest rise, but it is said that they haven't anywhere near the amount needed to last.

JOHNNIE WILSON WINS FROM HOCKEY

Boston, Mass., April 17—In spite of a handicap of more than 20 pounds, Johnnie Wilson reversed a decision which Leo Houck of Lancaster, Penn., had turned in an earlier bout, when the Charlestown lad was awarded the honors in the feature bout at the Douglas A. C. last night.

Bobbie Dixon of New Bedford, surprised the talent by winning from Kid Lee of Chelsea, outpointing him in every round. Walter Bartlett defeated Henry LeBout of New Bedford, while Eddie Flynn earned a draw with Sam Samuels. All the bouts went the full distance.

RUTH WINS OPENING GAME

Boston, April 15—Ruth held Philadelphia to four hits in the opening game of the American league here today and won by a score of 7 to 1. The conditions for the opening game were the best for many years and over 7000 people were in attendance. The Royal Rooters were present and pelted the manager and the team howlers while Mayor Peters threw out the first ball.

NEW OUTDOOR BOARD TRACK

April 17 has been set aside as New Hampshire day at the state college, Durham. This will be the second New Hampshire day, the first having been celebrated in the fall of 1916, when the students got together and set the drainage pipes in the athletic field.

This New Hampshire day, probably will result in the building of a new outdoor board track and new bleachers.

The track will fill one of New Hampshire's greatest needs because heretofore athletes training for indoor running were forced to train on a 24-laps-to-the-mile track. The track probably will be six laps to the mile and will be in the rear of the gymnasium.

NOTICE.
The selection of Rye will be at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, April 17, from 6:30 to 10:30 o'clock to receive inventories and hear all parties in regard to their liability to be taxed.

The engine that's dirty with carbon is the unsatisfactory engine—it doesn't develop the right amount of power, it "knocks" and, if the carbon isn't removed, it will wear the cylinder walls, a really very serious matter.

If your car has run a thousand or more miles without having the carbon removed, valves ground in, piston rings overhauled, etc., bring it to us now and have the work done promptly, perfectly and at a reasonable cost. Careful workmanship and dependable service, always here.

QUINCY TO GET GOVERNMENT BUILDING AID

Hoston, April 15.—The government is to erect barracks at a cost of $500,000 at Quincy Point for the housing of Fore River shipyard employees, according to Mayor Whitten, who recently returned from Washington.

In addition to the barracks, the mayor states, there will probably be 250 small houses constructed in this same district for workers and their families. Mayor Whitten says the proposed barracks will include dormitories, mess hall, recreation hall, etc., and will be large enough to accommodate more than 1000 men. Bids for the buildings have been submitted to several New England construction firms, but the contract has not been awarded, pending the passage by Congress of the bill for $50,000,000 for the building of barracks and houses to accommodate employees and their families.

PROPHECY ON THE WORLD'S WAR

The following prophecy on the world's great war has proven of great interest to many people especially at this time.

The prophecy is by the Monk, Frate Johannes, who lived about the year 1650. It is remarkable in its application to the present world crisis. The Advertiser at first doubted its authenticity because of a few discrepancies in the text, but the matter was referred to the newspaper information bureau at Washington and the director replied as follows:

Are You Doing Anything To Help Win The War?

The Fuel Administration says we must save Fifty Million tons of coal in 1918. They say the kitchen range is largely responsible for the coal shortage last year. Estimates show the average family uses about 1000 pounds of coal monthly for cooking. To produce gas for the same amount of cooking only about 300 lbs. are used at the central station. You must realize that by the use of gas you are helping save the coal. We are always ready to show you how you can save both coal and money by the use of gas.

PORTSMOUTH GAS CO., ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE.

"In reply to your letter, asking whether the prophecy by the monk Frate Johannes is real we would say that this prophecy was discovered on old parchment in the convent of the Holy Ghost, at Weimar, in Germany, and is kept under glass in the lower hall of that city. There have been numerous translations which text varies somewhat. We are returning your copy of this prophecy."

The discrepancies which we noted and which you also may notice, are probably due to the variations in the translation of the text. On the whole it is a remarkable prophecy. It is as follows:

The real Antichrist will be one of the monarchs of his time, a Lutheran Protestant. He will invoke God and give himself out as his messenger, or apostle.

This prince of lies will swear by the Bible. He will represent himself as the arm of the Most High, sent to chastise corrupt peoples.

He will have only one arm, but his innumerable armies, who will take for their device the words, "God is with us," will resemble this infernal regions.

For a long time he will set by craft and strategy. His spies will overrun the earth and he will be master of the secrets of the mighty.

He will have learned men in his pay who will maintain and undertake to prove his celestial mission.

War will afford him the opportunity of throwing off the mask. It will not be in the first instance a war which he will wage against a French monarch. But it will be one of such a nature that after two weeks, all will realize its universal character.

Not only all Christians, but all Muslims and even more distant peoples will be involved. Armies will be involved from the four quarters of the earth.

For by the third week the angels will have opened the minds of men who will perceive that the man is Antichrist and that all will become his slaves if they do not overthrow this conqueror.

Antichrist will be recognized by various tokens—in special he will massacre, the priest, the monks, the women, the children, and the aged. He will show no mercy, but will pass torch in hand like the barbarians, but invoking Christ.

His words of imposture will resemble those of Christians, but his vows of all the human race. He will have an eagle in his arms. There will also be an eagle in the arms of his confederate. But the latter will be a Christian and will die for the malediction of Pope Benedict who will be elected at the beginning of the reign of Antichrist.

In order to conquer Antichrist it will be necessary to kill more men than Rome has ever contained. It will need the energies of all the kingdoms, because the Cock, the Leopard and the White Eagle will not be able to make an end of the Black Eagle without the aid of the prayers and vows of the human race.

Never will humanity have been reared with such a peril, because the triumph of the Antichrist would be that of the demon who will have taken possession of his personality.

For it has been said that twenty centuries after the incarnation of the Word the beast will be incarnate in his turn and will menace the world with as many evils as the divine incarnation has brought its graces.

Toward the year 2000 Antichrist will be made manifest. His army will surpass in number anything that can be imagined. There will be Christians among his cohorts and there will be Mohammedans among the defenders of the Lamb as well as some heathen soldiers.

For the first time the Lamb will be red, for blood will flow in the domains of the four elements at once.

The Black Eagle will hurl itself upon the Cock which will lose many feathers. It will soon be exhausted but for the Leopard and its claws.

The Black Eagle will come from the land of Luther, will make a surprise attack upon the Cow.

The White Eagle will come from the North. The Black Eagle will find itself forced to let go the Cock in order to fight the White Eagle. Whereupon the Cock will have to pursue the Black Eagle into the land of the Antichrist to aid the White Eagle.

The battles fought up to that time will be nothing as compared to that which will take place in the Lutheran country.

When this beast finds himself lost he will become furious.

Alen will be able to cross the river over the bodies of the dead.

Antichrist will sue for peace many times but the seven angels who march before three animals of the Lamb, will have proclaimed that victory will not be given except on the condition that Antichrist shall be crushed like straw on the threshing floor.

The three animals will not be permitted to cease fighting as long as Antichrist has soldiers.

It will be made manifest that the combat which will be fought out in that part of the country in which Antichrist forges his arms, is no human conflict.

The animal defenders of the Lamb will exterminate the last army of Antichrist.

Antichrist will lose his crown and will die in solitude and madness. His empire will be divided into twenty-two states, but none will have any longer any fortifications, army or ships of war.

The White Eagle by order of Michael will drive the Crescent out of Europe, where there will be no longer any but Christians. He will install himself in Constantinople.

Explanation.
The Kaiser is a German Lutheran, one arm is withered.

Germany is the Black Eagle.

Austria her ally, has also an Eagle.

Russia is the White Eagle.

France is the Cock.

England, the British Empire, is the Leopard.—Published in Winchester (Mass.) Star, Sept. 28, 1917.

ISHII ARRIVES; REVEALS POLICY

A Pacific Port, April 15.—Viscount Ishii, Japanese ambassador to the United States, succeeding Ambassador Sato, arrived here today en route to Washington.

Discussing suggested Japanese activities in Siberia, he said that if Japan deemed it necessary to undertake a military expedition into Siberia, such intention would be for the benefit of the entire allies, and not for Japan. He declared any suggestion of a Japanese-German alliance to be absurd.

He admitted there was a possibility of Germany gaining a foothold in the Pacific by successful operations in Siberia.

POLICE NEWS

The police found a stranger giving the name of Charles Buckley on Vaughan street at 120 this morning with a bad scalp wound and otherwise beat up. He claimed that he was beat up by sailors, but when found by the police there were no sailors around. He was taken to the station and as he had been drinking and was bewildered he was locked up.

Walter Blair and a woman giving her name as Mamie Blair, but said by the police to be Lucy LeBorgne, were arrested on Monday night on warrants brought here by Lawrence, Mass., police. They were charged with statutory offense. The Lawrence police say that Blair has a wife in that city but that he has been living in this city with the other woman.

HAS BEEN IN FRONT LINE TRENCHES

A letter received this week from Lieut. Phillip Griffin, U. S. N., a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of State street, who has been in France since last fall, reported that he had been in the front line trench for some weeks with his company, and at the time of writing he was coming out for the usual rest period.

He was there under one of the most severe German bombardments, and strange to relate, after hours of this shelling which he said was very severe, not a single American soldier was wounded or killed. He reports the spirit of the men as excellent and everybody anxious to get into active service, that is the actual front line fighting. Lieut. Griffin, with Lieut. Frank Booma, an artillery officer, were the first of the local boys to go to France.

PORTSMOUTH MUST ENFORCE THE LAW

Unless the various departments of the city get busy, Portsmouth will be like the city of Washington, entirely under federal control. The local ordinances and laws must be rigidly enforced. Certain people appear to think that the move on the part of the federal authorities is all a joke. Two army surgeons have made a thorough inspection of Portsmouth and surrounding country and their report has been filed. It is time to act.

BUSY TIME WITH THE SHOALS GUARD

Captain Ben Hicker of the Isles of Shoals coast guard station took a power boat to the Nahant station on Monday and returned to this city by train. The members of the Shoals coast guard have given assistance to over forty during the past winter season. The men have been right out to their jobs throughout the trying cold weather.

POLICE BOARD MEETING NOT SUCH BUSY ONE

Two Want Patrolmen's Jobs and Moose Want Restriction
Lifted for Dancing
in Hall on High St.

The police board held a meeting on Monday evening but no great amount of business was transacted.

Two applications for positions as patrolmen were received but the board took no action on either.

Officers from the Order of Moose appeared before the board and made a request that the board withdraw any objection to the renting of the Moose hall for dancing. The organization, it is understood, is not to conduct the dances, but wishes to sub-let the hall for that purpose to other organizations and individuals. The board took the matter under consideration. The Moose will later ask the city council for a permit to allow dancing to be resumed in their hall and the object in appealing to the police board was to have the sanction of the commissioners before taking the matter to the council. The board gave some time to the junk men and the chief of police informed them as to the progress made since the business was placed under the police department.

CONDITIONS AT HOSPITAL

The Portsmouth hospital is crowded with patients beyond its capacity, and even the corridors often have to be used to accommodate the patients who are under treatment there. Yesterday there were 46 patients at the institution and the accommodations were well taxed.

The increase in the population of the city is noticeable in the number of patients at the hospital. When the institution was first built conditions were entirely different, but with the growth of the city more room is needed.

PLAN TO CLOSE UP THE STREET WHILE REPAIRS ARE MADE

Would Help Quick Completion of Work and Public
Will Be Protected.

It is understood that the board of public works is anxious to complete the paving on Middle street before the summer rush is on. The contractors are as anxious as the city and will hurry the job in every way possible. It may be necessary to close the street for this work to a certain extent but the little inconvenience would be offset by the quickness of the work.

If the street is closed it is said that arrangements will be made whereby people cannot get a coal supply without the backing of delivery wagons. The same applies to other necessities which cannot be delivered from side streets. The public will be protected as much as possible in this matter.

ENTERTAINED ON HER BIRTHDAY

Miss Catherine Coughlin entertained on Monday evening at her home on Gates street the occasion being her 20th birthday. The merry-makers assembled early in the evening and participated in dancing, singing and various games. Miss Lucy Gorman and Mr. Hensley each favored the guests with a solo. The Misses Bernice Klump, Annie Cullinane, and Mr. J. Grace were called upon in turn to favor with piano solos. The young host then invited her guests to the dining room where sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake were served. During the evening the young lady was presented with a ring in behalf of those present, the presentation being by Alice B. Ryan. Among the other gifts was a beautiful gold wrist watch. All departed at a late hour wishing

Miss Coughlin many, many more such happy anniversaries and declaring her a most charming hostess.

DEALERS CANNOT STORE LIQUORS

Violation of Law to Keep Too Much on Hand After
May 1.

Liquor dealers have been warned by the police that they must get rid of their stock before the first of May, when the state becomes bone dry, and that any attempt to store liquors, either at their places of business or at their homes would be considered a violation of the law and make them liable to punishment.

Chief of Police M. J. Healey and Rev. Jonathan C. Lewis of Amherst, the state law and enforcement officer, had a conference at police headquarters, Manchester, Saturday afternoon regarding the local situation. The result of the conference came in the announcement that has been received by each dealer informing them that they shall proceed to dispose of their stock during the next two weeks.

The authorities feel that the dealers have had a fair chance to be completely cleaned out of stock, having had a year's notice.

A majority of the dealers have advised that they would dispose of their stock at bargain sales to their customers, but many of them have been assured by dealers in other states that they could find a ready market for canned goods at good prices if they cared to sell out before the first of the dry month.
